SULEMAN MAHMAD MORA

Versus

STATE OF GUJARAT

Appearance:

MS BANNA DATTA, AMICUS CURIAE for Petitioner
GOVERNMENT PLEADER for Respondent No. 1, 2, 3

CORAM : MR.JUSTICE R.P.DHOLAKIA

Date of decision: 14/06/2000

ORAL JUDGEMENT

1. The District Magistrate, Panchmahals at Godhra, passed an order on 31-8-1999, in exercise of powers under Section 3 (1) of the Gujarat Prevention of Anti-social Activities Act, 1985 ("PASA Act " for short), detaining the petitioner-Suleman Mahmad Mora under the provisions of the said Act.

2. The detaining authority took into consideration four offences registered against the petitioner, so also the statements of two anonymous witnesses in respect of incident of May, 1999. The detaining authority considered the activities of the detenu as that of a dangerous person as defined under the PASA Act and observed that the petitioner is required to be immediately prevented from pursuing his activities, which are detrimental to public order. The authority also considered the possibility of resorting to less drastic remedies and came to conclusion that detention under PASA Act is the only remedy that can be resorted to.

3. The petitioner has filed this petition through jail and on receiving the same, it has been registered as Special Civil Application NO.4508 of 2000. The petitioner challenges the order of detention on various grounds. Mr. S.J.Dave, learned A.G.P. appears on behalf of the State.

4. As the questions involved in this petition are such which can properly be dealt with by the advocate and for that purpose at the time of final hearing, this Court requested Ms. Banna Datta to appear as amicus curiae and she willingly accepted the said request and argued the matter.

Ms. Banna Datta has restricted her arguments only on the point that there is improper exercise of powers under Section 9 (2) of the PASA Act. She has drawn attention of this Court to the fact that the whole exercise done by the detaining authority in a day i.e. the whole bunch of the papers were submitted before the detaining authority and he verified the statements of anonymous witnesses on the same day and the detention order passed on the very day. The authority, therefore, had no time to undertake the exercise of verifying the correctness and genuineness of the fear expressed by the witnesses qua the detenu. For that she has relied upon the judgment reported in 1993 (2) GLR 1659 wherein it is held as under :

" There is a provision under section 9
(2) carved out on the basis of Article 22 (5) of the Constitution which provides that nothing in sub-section (1) shall require the authority making such order to disclose facts which it considers to be against the public interest to disclose. Therefore, it is the duty of the detaining authority to strike a balance as stated above, that in the public interest, the names and addresses of the witnesses could not be disclosed. This should not be treated as an idle formality as it affects the public interest on the one hand and the right of the detenu on the other. When that is so, the detaining authority is expected to do some exercise before actually exercising the privilege under section 9 (2) of PASA. Looking to the facts and circumstances of the case, it is clear, as stated hereinbefore, that the verified statements were also placed before the detaining authority and there was no sufficient time for the detaining authority to examine the possibility of exercising the power under section 9 (2), as the proposal was made on 16th October, 1992 and the order of detention was passed on the following day i.e., 17th October, 1992, nor is there any material to show as to how he examined the necessity of exercising the power under section 9 (2). Under the circumstances, in our view, it is a wrong exercise of power under section 9 (2) which has affected the detenu's right of making an effective representation under Article 22 (5) of the Constitution of India and therefore, the continued detention of the detenu is bad and illegal and the impugned detention order is required to be quashed and set aside ".

5. Ms. Datta submitted further that the offences registered against the detenu do not indicate any disturbance to public order and, therefore, the subjective satisfaction recorded by the detaining authority regarding the activities of the detenu being detrimental to public order is without any basis and the petition may, therefore, be allowed.

6. Mr. S.J.Dave, learned Assistant Government Pleader, has opposed this petition on the ground that merely the authority has acted promptly does not mean that it has not applied mind or it has not verified the statements in the manner in which the same are required to be verified as per Section 9 (2) of the Act.

7. Considering rival side contentions, it appears that the statements of anonymous witnesses have been recorded on 20-8-99. The same have been verified by the detaining authority on 31-8-99 and the order is passed on that very day. So far as the statements of anonymous witnesses are concerned, it may be noted that the detaining authority completed the whole exercise of passing of detention order including verification of the statements of anonymous witnesses and also passed the order of detention on the same day, but the same is not permitted in view of the decision rendered by this Court reported in 1993 (2) GLR 1659 (supra). So the points raised by the petitioner are fully covered by the decision reported in 1993 (2) GLR 1659, and therefore, the petitioner is able to succeed only on that point. Therefore, learned counsel for the petitioner has restricted her arguments only on that point and not pressed other points.

8. In view of the above discussion, the reliance placed on by the detaining authority on the statements of anonymous witnesses and the registered offences cannot be upheld. The order of detention as well as the continued detention both are rendered bad in law. The petition, therefore, deserves to be allowed.

9. In the result, the petition is allowed. The impugned order of detention dated 31-8-1999, passed against the detenu is hereby quashed. The detenu- Suleman Mahmad Mora is ordered to be set at liberty forthwith, if not required in any other matter. Rule is made absolute with no order as to costs.
